Personal Experience

Investigator:

Christine:

1. Saw two small white spirits running toward me n the upstairs hall as I stood in the soldier's bedroom doorway. They were children and were holding hands and giggling. They ran right into me and then I felt a tingling sensation for several minutes afterwards.
2. While standing at the top of the stairs sensed a tall confederate solider come up the main staircase several times. At one point he stood right next to me on the first step. I looked over at him for several minutes hoping he would materialize or that I could see his shadow as a car went by on the street, but did not see him.
3. Felt someone in the kitchen behind me... near the French window.

Darlene:

Felt someone brush by her and touch her hand in the soldier's bedroom.

Leanne:

Felt someone touch her hand while laying in front of the fireplace in the soldier's bedroom.

Personal Experience (Cont'd)

Pat:

While in the soldier's bedroom the first time she felt the paper she was holding in her hand move as if it was moving to a strong breeze.

Investigation Terms

Electromagnetic Field Energy (EMF): It is believed that a spike in an EMF meter indicates the presence of paranormal activity if other evidence supports it, i.e.: photos with orbs in the same area, sensitive affirmation, and/or other meter readings that support activity.

Orbs: Orbs are white and sometimes blue circles or elongated circles that show up on 35 mm but most often in digital photographs. There is much contention in the paranormal field as to their origin. Some investigators claim that they are all dust particles or light glare into the camera lens and aperture. However, a true spirit orb has an irregular edge that usually has a rainbow-colored energy look to it. It also has definite nucleus inside the orb, is transparent, and gives an indication of movement. If the orb shows signs that it is moving, it is almost always an indication of spirit activity, as most cameras sinc their flashes at 1/60 of a second, and dust does not move that quickly unless it is in an outside wind. Also, light refraction back into the lens of the camera does not move at all.

Electronic Voice Phenomena (EVP): This term is used to identify unexplained noise or voices that can be heard on electronic recording devices that were (most often) not heard by the investigators during an investigation. It is believed that spirits can imprint their "voices" onto recording devices and sometimes even cell phones, radios and TVs through what is known as static or "white noise."

PHOTOGRAPHS OF LOCATION

This is a photo of some of the MFPS and two of my EDPI Members, Leanne and Darlene S. At the far left is Eric Haney, the founder and lead investigator for the MFPS group. There are quite a few orbs only on Eric. The photo below was taken only seconds later with the same camera and at the same angle as the first photo—no orbs.

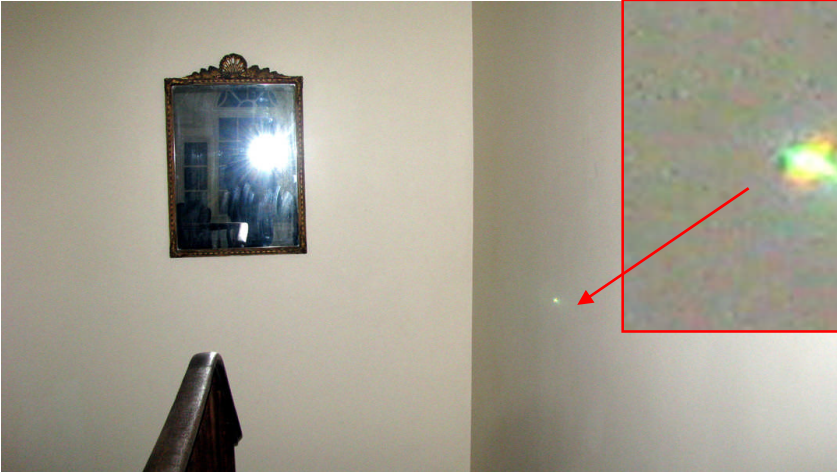

Darlene took this photo of a faint orb in the living room. This is the same room where I was able to capture many orbs in the photo on page one.

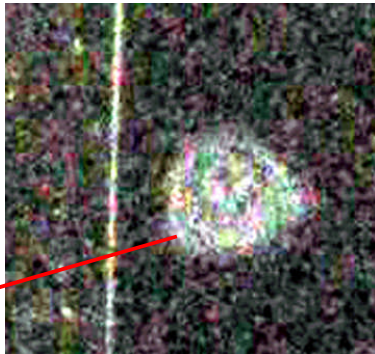

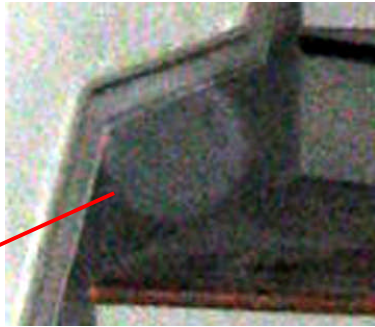

This photo was taken in the spot where the children spirits ran into me.

After this happened I stood in the hallway right at the top of the staircase and sensed a tall man wearing a Confederate uniform come up the staircase over and over again. At one point he stood right next to me for several seconds before disappearing. This was probably a residual ghost image, as it repeated in exactly the same way over and over again.

I took this photo while standing at the top of the main staircase when I felt the confederate soldier standing next to me. Remember that it was pitch black in the house at the time so I didn't realize there was a mirror on the wall when I took the photo. It could be a reflection from the mirror, but why so small and why only one reflection spot? My camera was pointed at the mirror so if it is a reflection, it's a weird one.

This orb is moving

Living room and many orbs... the one on the door is the most impressive

Conclusion:

There were children in the carriage house and out in the yard, so it was difficult to determine if the children’s voices heard on the recordings were the live children, or those of spirit children. There was too much noise in the carriage house to get any decent EVPs. There was also a great deal of traffic noise, especially in the early evening.

Thank you for allowing us to join your investigation.
